- Empower parents of the host societies and of migrant origin in dealing with ethnic and cultural diversity at schools
- Create tailor-made training material for parents, helping them to develop intercultural skills and actively support school activities for social inclusion
- Engage parents in awareness raising through audio-visual material
- Promote the notion that parental engagement for social inclusion is a collaborative, reciprocal and mutually rewarding process

Our activities

In October 24 and 25, 2017, our partnership met for the first time in Athens, confirming our strong belief in the importance of parent engagement and our passion for the ideal Parents For All. Here are certain milestones of our project you can look forward to:

January – February 2018: Engagement of parents in the design of the training methodology, through focus groups and questionnaires.

The P4A questionnaire for host society and ethnic and cultural minorities (ECM) parents was developed based on the discussion questions. Parent Focus Group discussions, as well as the questionnaire, are important tools for project partners to find out parents' opinions: challenges their children face at school, miscommunication with teachers or school mates, as well as integration success stories. Answers and opinions voiced via these meetings and the questionnaire will enable project partners to develop parent training material that is tailor made, relevant, and helpful to parents. Questions focus on parents' experience, opinions about migration, and personal needs for training and the kind of training they prefer.

April – November 2018: Creation of training material tailored to the needs of parents from the host societies and those of migrant origin

December 2018 – August 2019: Production of video and short film with the participation of parents

November 2019: International conference in Athens
