The UK Parliament has been dissolved, and will not meet again until after the General Election that will take place on 12 December. The new parliament is expected to meet for the first time on 17 December formally to elect the Speaker, after which new MPs will be sworn in.

If the Conservative Party win the election, the State Opening of Parliament and the Queen's Speech will follow on Thursday 19 December. If there is a change of Government following the Election it is anticipated that the Queen's Speech will be in January.
